SUMMARY

Shopify engineer responsible for the entire technical estate of a D2C business trading at approximately US$600K per month. Over nineteen months, rebuilt its storefront in hand-written Liquid, replaced its subscription applications with software the business owns, launched its mobile application on the Play Store, and developed two commercial Shopify products — an application and a premium theme — both currently under review for the App Store and Theme Store. Previously three and a half years of full-stack development within a global financial-services firm.

SELECTED ACHIEVEMENTS

- US$7M in annual sales transacts through systems I designed and built. Sole engineer across an 800-product Shopify business: storefront, custom applications, mobile application and internal tooling.
- Two commercial products submitted to Shopify's own marketplaces within a single year. A reviews application built to compete with the established category leaders, and a premium theme; the application additionally cleared Shopify's highest customer-data approval level.
- US$12,000 in annual software subscriptions eliminated by replacing rented reviews and loyalty applications with owned equivalents. The reviews platform now holds 10,065 customer reviews across 918 products at a 4.82-star average.
- Mobile performance score raised from 60 to 90+ on an 800-product catalogue, achieved principally by removing third-party applications and rebuilding their functionality natively.
- A theme scoring 97/100 for performance and 100/100 for accessibility while running scroll-driven 3D product animation and autoplaying video on the same page.

SCOPE OF OWNERSHIP

- Storefront development. Empty theme to live commercial storefront in hand-written Liquid, with no purchased template or page builder.
- Public application development. Design, build, subscription billing, data-protection documentation and App Store submission.
- Commercial theme development. 40 sections and 92 merchant-configurable block types across 267 translatable strings.
- Supporting systems. Loyalty, reviews, mobile applications and automation, built for daily operation by non-technical staff.

SELECTED PROJECTS

ReviewMaster — multi-tenant reviews application for the Shopify App Store

Submitted to the Shopify App Store • sole engineer

A multi-merchant reviews application built to compete with the established leaders in the category. It requests a review at the appropriate point after delivery, accepts photographs and video, holds submissions for merchant approval, and publishes the aggregate rating into Google search results. Each merchant's data is fully isolated, and the application has been approved at Shopify's highest customer-data classification. A deliberate design constraint: incentives cannot be conditioned on review sentiment — now prohibited in the US, EU and UK — because no field exists in the data model to express it.

Prominent — premium theme for the Shopify Theme Store

Submitted to the Shopify Theme Store, v1.2.0 · live demo store

A premium theme developed from scratch for fashion and lifestyle brands. Its signature section presents a product as a scroll-controlled 360° rotation across five narrative beats, with the purchase panel fixed in view throughout, so shopper intent and the point of purchase never separate. Merchants receive 40 sections and 92 block types they can rearrange without code, and the theme scores 97/100 for performance, 100/100 for accessibility and 100/100 for best practices on a fully populated demo.

Divine Hindu — storefront

Live · 800 products · ~US$600K monthly GMV · www.divinehindu.in

An 800-product storefront written by hand in Liquid. Custom cart with contextual upsells, a build-your-own-bundle tool with live repricing, one-click checkout with cash-on-delivery verification, and shop-by-birth-sign and shop-by-deity merchandising across 40+ collections maintained by the marketing team without engineering involvement. Includes a custom predictive search that returns results as the shopper types and tolerates misspelling, resolving a query to the closest matching product rather than returning nothing. Mobile performance score raised from 60 to 90+.

Divine Points — loyalty and cashback platform

Live in production · replaced a subscription application

A loyalty and cashback programme no commercially available application could express: cashback restricted to prepaid orders, a fixed redemption ceiling per order, 45-day expiry consumed oldest-first, and redemption completed inside a third-party one-click checkout rather than a coupon field, with refunds restoring the precise balances consumed. The marketing team administers earn rules, per-product cashback, referrals, WhatsApp messaging, caps and finance reporting from a purpose-built console.

Divine Hindu application — Play Store

Live on the Play Store · commerce, astrology and consultation

Commerce, astrology and live consultation in a single application, sharing customers, catalogue and rewards balance with the storefront — one phone number resolves to one account across web, application and checkout. The astrology engine executes on the device rather than against a service, giving immediate results and full offline capability.

In-house reviews platform

Live in production · replaced a subscription application

Replaced a subscription application and the page weight it introduced. Holds 10,065 reviews across 918 products at a 4.82-star average, operated daily by non-technical staff — bulk importing from spreadsheets, moderating submissions and restyling the storefront display without developer involvement.
